

Johan Ræder, CV

Born, 22.nd February, 1954 in Drammen, Norway
Medical Candidate in 1978, University of Oslo, Norway
Ph.D, University of Trondheim, Norway, 1989. Topic: "Premedication and general anaesthesia in outpatient gynaecologic surgery"
Master Degree in Health Administration, University of Oslo, 1995

Clinical practice(anaesthesiology):

Head of ambulatory anaesthesia, Oslo University Hospital-Ullevaal
Section leader, Gynaecologic anaesthesia

Academic merits:

Professor in Anaesthesia, University of Oslo since 1994
Principal tutor of 8 PhD theses:
Member, Editorial board, Acta Anaesthesiologica Scandinavica (1992-2005)
Member Associate Editor Board, Anesthesia Analgesi (2006 – 2011)
Member, Editorial board, Ambulatory Surgery
Leader of Scientific Subcommittee for Ambulatory Anaesthesia, European Society of Anaesthesia, 1994-99
Leader and founder of Norwegian Association of Ambulatory Surgery (1998-2007)

International projects:

Participating centre/contact in ISPOC-EU studies on postoperative cognitive dysfunction (1998-2004)
Participating centre/contact in BRACCIA-EU study on depth of anaesthesia monitoring (2004-2010) (Book and papers in press)
National coordinator of Norwegian centres for the POISE study on beta-blockers for prophylaxis before surgery.
Participating in Prospect, International expert group on Post.op pain (since 2016)
Participating in IOC project on analgesic treatment in top-athlete sport (since 2016)

Books:

Clinical Ambulatory Anaesthesia. (monograph, book), Cambridge Univ Press, 2010, ISBN 978-0-521-73781-4
Anestesiologi: Textbook for medical students (Norwegian, monograph) Gyldendal press 2009, ISBN 978-82-05-39497-1
2nd edition, Gyldendahl 2016 ISBN 978-82-05-49472-5
Practical Ambulatory Anesthesia (monograph with Richard Urman), Cambridge Univ Press, 2015, ISBN 978-1-107-06534-5
+ approx. 20 book chapters in international textbooks

International Scientific papers:

Approx. 190 papers in Medline